Summary

A highly motivated recent Communication Technology Engineering graduate with solid networking, IT support, and cybersecurity knowledge. Seeking an IT position to apply my academic training, certifications, and skills to contribute effectively to an organization's technical operations while developing my professional career.

Education

- Bachelor's Degree in Communication Technology Engineering from Al-Farahidi University , Graduation Year: 2024-2025

Experience

- Summer Training – Baqubah Health Directorate, Diyala Governorate (Summer 2024)

Completed a one-month training program at the Baqubah Health Directorate, where I worked on data entry and record management using specialized electronic systems. My tasks included recording and managing data for official documents, patient cases, death certificates, and medical supplies, ensuring data accuracy and consistency. This experience allowed me to develop foundational technical skills in using digital systems and databases, improve my attention to detail, and enhance my organizational and team collaboration abilities. These skills provide a strong foundation for pursuing a career in Information Technology, particularly in systems management and data administration.
